You'll visit the Harz Mountains, situated between the Weser and Elbe Rivers in central Germany. See for yourself why these mountains have been so celebrated in German folklore and literature.

Take the cure at Bad Kissingen and see why people flock there from all corners of the world for the sparkling waters and healthy atmosphere.

Visit the elaborate castles of Ludwig II of Bavaria in the Alpine regions of Bavaria. This eccentric king called in a decorator from the Munich Opera to design the profusion of turrets, watchtowers and battlements for his dream castles.

In the Black Forest, roam through the colorful villages and be delighted at the abundance of festivals, good food and friendly people. Ride down the "romantic road" which is a series of picturesque towns that parallel the Rhine River. The 15th century churches and medieval castles lend an air of enchantment to these historic places. People, places, customs and fun are all part of "Bavarian Cream".

"American" Woman Celebrates 25th Year

By Jon Thompson

Carin Bentley had lost weight worrying about her test. She was nervous, her knees shook.

Suddenly, after weeks of studying for her citizenship test, her mind went blank as the judge asked her the first question, "Who makes the laws in the United States?"

Bentley, a native of Germany, couldn't think straight. She said the president makes the laws.

"This is not Hitler country," the judge sternly told her. "The people make the laws here."

But all turned out well. The judge soon recognized Bentley knew more about the United States than most natives and she was granted citizenship.

On March 5, 1985, Bentley is going to celebrate the 25th anniversary of her arrival in the states.

"To me, it is a very special date - almost like a wedding," Bentley said. "America is just the greatest country. There are lots of opportunities here to make something of yourself. And the freedom here to me is the greatest. It's something you can feel."

"The people here are friendlier, it's a much easier life. In Germany, you worry about what your neighbors think. After 20 or 30 years, you still call them Mr. and Mrs. Here you can call people by their first names."

Bentley left her home town of Pirmasens, West Germany, at age 22 to go to the states.

"I always wanted to go to America ever since I was a small girl coming out of the fall-out shelter at the end of the war. The Americans came through on their tanks and I liked them even though they were supposed to be our worst enemy. They threw Hershey bars and Life Savers - and I ate everything though the Germans told us it was poisoned."

"My father was a colonel for Germany during the war and it was very hard for him to understand why I wanted to go to America. I'm not ashamed of Germany. I was born and raised there. But if people ask me, I tell them I'm an American, because I am now.

"So many people here don't realize how lucky they are. Most of the people born here take this country for granted," she said.

"Whenever I hear bad talk about the U.S. I want to tell them to go to Russia or China to see how people live there."

Carin Bentley

"I've gone back to Germany nine times in the last 25 years for visits and I get scared there. One time I had a nightmare I couldn't return to America and I woke up in a cold sweat."

Bentley was sponsored to gain entry in the U.S. by her second cousin. Her first job in the U.S. was as a governess of three children for Lloyd W. Durant, a vice-president for NBC. Bentley lived at Mr. and Mrs. Durant's residence in Scarsdale, New York, and often traveled to New York City with the children to see game shows and other television programs taped.

She met her husband, Donald Bentley, in New York City, when he asked Carin and her girl friend for directions. Bentley, a career military officer, was stationed in Arizona and a year later they were married out west.

Donald, a native of Grayling, died 11 years ago after he had retired, returned to Grayling with his family, and started building a house.

Carin and her late husband have two children, Donelle, who was Miss Grayling in 1982 and is a radiography technician at Mercy Hospital in Muskegon, and Donald, who works at the Grayling Holiday Inn.

Carin currently works with handicapped children driving a bus for them for the COOR Intermediate School District. She was also a teacher's aide in California before moving to Grayling.

Besides her anniversary date on March 5 concerning her arrival in the United States, Bentley also celebrates another date here - election days.

"Every time I go to vote as an American I stand ten feet tall," she said.

Board Decides Against Extra Millage Requests

The Crawford AuSable School Board voted Monday night not to put three additional millage requests on an April 2nd ballot.

The board voted 4-0 to place only one millage request on the April 2, 1985, ballot.

The board is seeking a millage renewal of 16.9 mills plus one mill to continue current operations.

School board member Fred Allen said the school district reduced millage by one mill in 1982 and now they need it back to keep essential programs.

The board decided against placing these three additional millage requests on the ballot: one mill for major maintenance for four years; 3/4 mill for curriculum improvement for three years, and one mill for fund equity for two years.

"All three requests have merit and are needed by the district," said board member Mary Allen. "But right now, you don't buy dessert before you buy the meat and potatoes. We need the meat and potatoes - the renewal plus one - to keep operating."

The 16.9 mill renewal plus one mill request is scheduled for an April 2nd vote to meet a deadline for summer taxes. Should voters pass the issue, the school will be able to collect summer taxes.

Superintendent Kent Reynolds said the extra election in April will cost $3,500 but it could save the district up to $100,000 in interest. If summer taxes aren't collected this year, the district will have to borrow up to $1.5 million and pay interest on the loan.

The board meeting was attended by seven GHS students, four principals, two teachers, and two citizens in addition to board members and the assistant superintendent and superintendent.

One citizen, Glen Terry, said the public would be confused if all four proposals were on the ballot and they all would be voted down. He told the board they should follow

Bangor School District's recent example: keep it simple, tell the public what you need, and they will support you. (Bangor recently passed a renewal plus additional millage by the largest margin ever.)

Reynolds said the school board has earned credibility with most of the community keeping promises made three years ago when the three-year renewal was passed. The board said it would not come back asking for additional millages to operate, it would restore and improve curriculum programs, and it would improve its maintenance programs.

The many curriculum improvements were outlined by Reynolds in his 1985 State of the School presentation at the meeting. (Copies of the report are available at the district's central office.) About $154,000 was spent in maintenance beyond personnel and utilities cost this year and several parents have commended the district on the maintenance improvements.

Reynolds said the board never came back during the three years for extra millages even though revenues didn't come in as expected.

"We've reached a point now where we can't continue to operate at the same levels without getting that one mill back," Reynolds said.

Without the one mill, the district will be $110,000 in deficit next year, he says. The only way to avoid the deficit will be a large reduction in programs including lay-offs.

Reynolds said the district can't expect any help from the state despite plenty of talk about helping education. Crawford AuSable is "out of formula" and only receives about one percent of its income from the state. Back in 1972 the state was providing about 49 percent of the district's revenues.

Crawford AuSable spends an average of $2,291 per pupil while the average school district in the U.S. spends $2,948 per pupil.

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Hartwick Pines State Park Interpreter, Wendell Hoover, of Grayling, was a recent recipient of the distinguished DNR Employee Recognition Award for exceptional performance and service to the Department.

Hoover was presented the award during the February 7 meeting of the Natural Resources Commission (NRC) for his consistent, excellent level of performance, and dedication in his duties as Park Interpreter.

"The award represents one of the highest Department honors bestowed upon an employee by his peers and the DNR Commission," comments NRC Chairman Thomas J. Anderson.

Employed by the DNR in 1956 as a forest fire towerman, then as Park ranger in 1961, Hoover has been Park interpreter at Hartwick Pines since 1966. Throughout the years, Hoover's captivating and enthusiastic promotion of conservation through his "living history" programs have delighted many an audience.

During the past 19 years, Hoover has brought to life the subject of conservation to well over a million visitors to Hartwick Pines; especially popular are his guided hikes and evening campfire presentations. Each year, on a special request basis, Hoover's entertaining/educational conservation programs delight over 100 groups of school children, scout troops, and church groups.

Hoover, along with seven other award recipients, were honored at a luncheon at Jim's Tiffany Restaurant, following the presentation.

Stockton Piles Up X-Country Ski Wins

By Jon Thompson

Like a snowball rolling downhill, Butch Stockton, of Higgins Lake, is gathering in cross-country ski victories as the racing season hits its peak.

Stockton, 36, won the Ranch Rudolph Grand Traverse 30-kilometer race in late January. Then, on Saturday, Feb. 2, Stockton beat out a field of about 500 skiers to claim the White Pine Stampede 20K title.

The next day, Sunday, Feb. 3, Stockton won the Beaver Creek Challenge, a 12K race he has won four out of five years.

Last Saturday, Feb. 9, Stockton won his age division at the North American VASA Cross-Country ski races held near Traverse City, finishing third overall in the 20K race. Two Olympic hopefuls from the Northern Michigan University ski team, Jan Bergstrom and Kevin Marciniak, were the only racers to beat him.

To top off his day after racing in Michigan's largest cross-country ski race, Stockton hopped in his car and made it to Grayling by 3 p.m. in time to compete in the annual Klondike canoe race on the AuSable.

Stockton, who's won the AuSable Canoe Marathon the last three years, placed third with his partner Bob Weisch behind the tears of Brett Stockton, Butch's nephew, and Greg Barton, an Olympic canoeist, and Dave Shepherd and Jeff Kolk.

From Our Corner...

Things are beginning to look up...weather-wise that is...we have had enough snow so that everyone has been able to have a little bit of it, we have had enough sub-zero weather that I'm sure everyone around here has had their share...the last few days have been real pleasant even though the temperature is only around 25 it beats that below stuff any day...the sun has decided to show up after about two weeks of dull days, and the rays are real warm as it is higher in the sky and we are thankful because the past few days we have been able to enjoy having the solar panel on our house...Sunday the temp rose to 30 and the next three days it is predicted they will be as such...we still have had our share of the cold nights but, that seems to be changing also...all in all nasty January is out of the way...even though we get snow in late February and March it just isn't the same as that bitter cold weather that lingers with it during January...

The above paragraph was written Sunday, we didn't know Sunday night and all day Monday it was going to snow and snow and snow...

We are planning on going out to Vegas the last part of March to visit our Nevada family but, we really haven't been too much in a rush, we have watched the nations temperatures in the paper and Las Vegas hasn't been that exciting with 40 and 50 degrees and to top that off, last Sunday Thelma was talking to Cyd and she said they had just let their dogs in and they were covered with snow...now Vegas doesn't need that just like most of the southern states have been experiencing winter weather and they are not equipped to handle ice and snow...in Michigan and other northern states at least we have lived to expect the unknown, and usually can cope with bad weather...by the way, Amber exclaimed when she saw the snow, oh boy, she wouldn't talk like that if she lived in Michigan, especially when you have about four months of snow...

We smiled Blue, and I'm sure Judge Emil, Bob at the Bank and Freddie at the Post Office did likewise this Sunday when the University of Michigan defeated Purdue last Thursday evening and then took the measure of revenge from Illinois on Saturday to take over first place in the Big 10 standings...the Illini defeated U. of M. earlier in triple overtime...the big hurdle for the Blue is this Thursday night when they travel to Iowa for a game with the Hawkeyes who are in second place with a 8-2 record, while Michigan is 9-2...

We forgot to mention in last week's column when we were up at Boyne with the St. Germain's that R.J. came up to us between the J.V. and Varsity game and said it's a fine thing I have to run into you this far away from Grayling...he explained that he had been busy with keeping score for all the games that he just hadn't had time to come down to the office and let me know about his Christmas trip to his beloved jungle, he mentioned just as soon as he is over with teaching night classes and keeping score he'll stop by...usually his tale of woe can fill a column, and there are week's like this we need as much help as we can get...

Right now I think we will be gone when the annual Rotary Club Minstrel Show will be presented, and I'm sorry because I heard the other day who the other end man was going to be with Grayling's answer to Scurvy, who made fame at the Avenue in Detroit...Irv's going to answer to Sgt. Berglund of the Crime Lab of the Michigan State Police here in Grayling, and he's BIG...we're sure Irv will greet him as Sir...as always, the show will give a lot of enjoyment to those who attend so don't miss it...the show is set for March 22-23...

This just about takes care of this week's turkey so we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight...and to all of our readers, have a nice weekend...hope you didn't forget your Valentine Thursday...if you did, there is always Sweetest Day coming along, to make amends...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

THANK YOU

Our column, "The Bible Speaks" has completed 12 years in the Crawford County Avalanche. A special word of thanks to the members and friends of Calvary Baptist Church for the thousands of dollars given to publish this message down through the years. Thanks to the editor and staff of the Avalanche for their cooperation and grace in granting us liberty of expression without fear of intimidation through editing.

A word of thanks to the Liberal Humanists of this town who have publicly attacked our position in the paper. Truth always comes out better when it is challenged. Those of us who believe the Bible as final authority, are never ashamed to be held publicly accountable for our teachings. We would strongly encourage anyone who disagrees with us to publicly correct us. Truth and righteousness are more important to us than reputation and personal feelings.

A word of thanks to our faithful readers. Over the years, hundreds of people have gradually become regular readers of our column each week. While many of you have not agreed with every column, you have assured us of your appreciation of our efforts. The tolerance expressed by you is appreciated. Only the Bible is God's perfect authority. We humans cannot correct God, we can only hope to know, believe, and express His Holy Scriptures as instruments of His Holy Spirit.

Above all, we thank God for the privilege and joy of serving Him in Grayling. "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him." Almanack

"Where you're coming from . . ."

by Richard Milliman

ONE OF THE MORE popular phrases in wide usage these days especially among the young and the Yippie-sort of crowd, seeks to learn "where you're coming from" as in, "I see where you're coming from man," or "I don't know where you're coming from."

As nearly as I can interpret the meaning, the phrase seeks to establish preconceived notions, or biases, thereby to better interpret subsequent words or actions.

The whole idea is useful in interpretation of political reviews of speeches or other actions by politicians.

Take, for example, Gov. James Blanchard's recent "State of the State" message to the Michigan Legislature. Republican leaders Rep. Michael Busch and Sen. John Engler tended to dismiss Blanchard's oration as so much political palaver, while Democratic leaders such as Sen. William Faust and Speaker Gary Owen tended to embrace the Governor's remarks as words from the political mountaintop.

It all depends on "where you're coming from."

OR TAKE President Reagan's recent inaugural. Press interpretations of the quality of the inaugural varied all over the lot. Permit me to cite a few examples.

Wrote Columnist David Nyhan in The Boston Globe: "The Washington nabobs, men of power and their minked ladies, crammed into the Rotunda, but they might as well have been snow-covered pines, for all they added. They served as backdrop only; the President's talk was aimed into Camera One. If you had a red light on your forehead, Reagan could stare into your face for hours. You'd swear he loved you. He was born to look sincere in front of an optic lens and a mike. A happy lifetime of stagecraft is the renowned Reagan edge."

Try Sandy Grady, writing in Knight-Ridder Newspapers: "I tell you, the Reagan Presidency is really the country's longest-running TV series, starring the Gipper as himself. Character actors come and go — small-timers such as Al Haig and Jim Watt and Ann Burford. But the Gipper always saves the script. And the rest of us are just bit players. So the '85 inaugural will go down in history as another chunk of the TV series — 'The Year Ron Gave the Arctic Clipper a Punch in the Nose.'

THERE ARE SOME printed views from the other side of the spectrum, too. New York Times Columnist William Safire wrote about the inaugural speech:

Michigan Mirror

Court Refuses To Order Early Release of Prisoners

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

The state Court of Appeals has refused to order Governor James Blanchard to invoke the Emergency Prison Overcrowding Act's provisions for early inmate release, however, the attorney seeking the order said he may file for an order by the Supreme Court.

A three-judge appeals court panel dismissed the suit for lack of jurisdiction, but offers no discussion. The cited cases date back to 1974 which ruled the judiciary does not have the authority to interfere with the determinations of a coordinate branch of government.

Douglas Mulkoff of the National Lawyers Guild, who filed suit on behalf of an inmate in the Huron Valley Women's facility, said the Governor's refusal to declare an overcrowding emergency, despite a finding in December by the state Corrections Commission that prison populations exceed capacity, was putting prisoners in jeopardy.

Attorney General Frank Kelley, who had ruled the Governor was not required to authorize prisoner releases, said the appellate ruling was "clearly a victory for all law abiding citizens. The Governor is taking swift action to increase prison capacity, clearly there is no reason to release any of these dangerous felons out onto the streets."

In refusing to sign an emergency order, which would have reduced minimum prisoner sentences by 90 days, Blanchard told the commission it had the administrative ability to deal with the problem.

No immediate relief is in sight for the women's 477-bed system, which as of January 9 contained 531 inmates.

But the Dept. of Corrections plans to begin moving about 20 prisoners a week, beginning about April 1, to a 240-bed facility created by converting three vacant buildings at the Dept. of Mental Health's Coldwater Regional Center for Developmental Disabilities.

The men's 12,453-bed system, which in-

"Did the peroration lift off?" (Columnist's note: 'Peroration' means conclusion of an oration. I looked it up. RLM) Yes, not for nothing is Wilson his middle name. 'The American sound,' the song sung first by a settler heading westward, its echo filling 'the unknowing air,' is a lovely metaphor, and enabled him to use the half dozen adjectives that describe his vision of America: 'hopeful, big-hearted, idealistic — daring, decent and fair.'

If those words are left in the viewers' minds to associate with the speaker, so much the better. In sum, Reagan's second inaugural was a respectable effort, above the average and worth reading over; a B-plus of a speech, not great, not near-great, but not bad. Not bad at all."

One final example, this one from Nick Thimmesch, writer for the Los Angeles Times Syndicate on the political scene in general: "The reality that Reagan is a strong, believed-in leader has not yet soaked into the minds of many in the top media or in Washington's opinion-molding community. They just can't bring themselves to recognize this and some Republicans say, that's fine, let them continue deluding themselves. Liberals and the media elite aside, the polls also show a jump in the number of Americans who now regard themselves as Republicans. Democrats are rightly worried."

WHAT'S THE PURPOSE in presenting other comments from others on the Reagan inaugural? One purpose is to present some examples of excellent writing; another is to make a point about columnists, including this particular one.

After reading those excerpts, it's fairly easy to see where the writer is "coming from." Consistent reading of these writers — and many others, including some who share these pages week after week — will show the same sort of pattern of consistent bias, so the reader should judge the effort importantly from the standpoint of where the writer is "coming from."

Personally, as a columnist, I hope to avoid such an easy tag. Certainly, we all have preconceived ideas and biases, even writers (or maybe, especially writers).

But my aim as an essayist is to offer a fair and reasonable comment wherever I feel it is due, and to avoid easy classification of viewpoint simply because readers may know from past writings "where he's coming from."

Naturally, I don't always succeed. But I try.

Kirtland to Present "Never Too Late"

The Kirtland Players have assembled their cast and are hard at work in rehearsals and on scenery building for the comedy, "Never Too Late," by S.A. Long. The fun filled family farce will be performed on Friday, March 1st at 8 p.m., on Saturday, March 2nd at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, March 3rd at 3 p.m., on Kirtland's campus in the Gilbert I. Stewart Auditorium. The Friday performance will be preceded at 6 p.m. by a before-the-theatre dinner in the College's Student Center.

The play centers around Edith (Jeanne Meier, Higgins Lake), who is married to a gruff old lumberyard owner, Harry (Bill Garden, St. Helen). They are both well into middle age and Edith discovers that she is expecting that little bundle of joy usually associated with younger women. Her household, which includes her twenty-six year old daughter, Kate (Irene Marie Myers, St. Helen), and her bumbling husband (Randy Thomas, Houghton Lake), is thrown into a panic which involves the town Mayor (Byron Erickson, Roscommon) and a policeman (Gary McCutcheon, Roscommon). Everything is, of course, pleasantly resolved in the end. Supporting cast members include Evelyn Sheltrown and Ray King of West Branch, and Byron Erickson, Mike Thomas and Gary McCutcheon of Roscommon.

This is a veteran crew of area community theatre with Jeanne Meier and Randy Thomas fresh from their Kirtland debut performances in The Fantastics last fall; Erickson appeared as the male lead in the 1983 Kirtland production of Blithe Spirit; Ray King played the mad judge in last year's Ogemaw Community Players production of Ten Little Indians; Mike Thomas played the mysterious Italian in Kirtland's production of The Mousetrap in 1982, and Gary McCutcheon was recently very active in drama at Roscommon High School.

Julia Byron, area calligrapher and Roscommon High School art teacher, is the production designer and Mike Thomas is the technical director. The play is being directed by Dr. Robert Amsden, Kirtland's Theatre Coordinator.

Tickets for this amusing and nostalgic show are $4.50, and $3.50 for students and senior citizens, and the dinner on Friday, March 1st are

Indiana Woman Keynote Speaker For Lincoln Day Dinner

Eleanor Holt, Vice-chair of the Indiana State Republican Committee and President of the Indiana Federation of Republican Women, will be the keynote speaker at the Crawford County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner at the American Legion Hall in Grayling on February 23. This will be the first time an out-of-state person has filled this position for this annual event.

Ellie, as she is more often referred to, has been an active Republican in Indiana for more than 25 years. She has been a member of a precinct, county and district Republican Committee in addition to her state committee office. She has also held leadership positions in the Women's Federation at the local, district, state and national levels, including chairwoman of the 1979 Federation National Convention. She was a delegate to the National Republican Conventions in 1980 and 1984 and served on the Platform Committee at last year's convention.

Northern Michigan holds many fond memories for Ellie and her husband Bob. They have a vacation home at Bear Lake in Manistee County and have been spending time in that area for thirty-five years.

The evening will start with a cocktail hour at 6:00 p.m. and the dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m. by American Legion Post 106. Several door prizes will be given away throughout the evening.

Tickets at $10.00 each can be picked up from Jeanette Kitchen at Clough Realty, George Stancil at Cornell Insurance, Bill Rudy at Grayling Insurance, John Huss at Huss Law Offices, Art Tessin at the Lock Shop, Gloria Kraus or Evelyn Keir at The Village Shop, Joe Wakeley, Arnold Stancil, Sue or John Medler, Walt Nowak, Harold Hatfield, Gladys Munford, Mary Cecil, Art or Mary Jane Thayer, Gary Willoughby, Don Welser, Art Carlson, Bernie Dosch, Mary Landau, Bud Joyce, Jim Kolka, Irma Longenecker or Norm Parker, in Grayling; Anna or Tom Weede in Roscommon, Jim Besonen in Frederic or Margie Harwood in Lovells or by calling 348-7253.

All four programs are offered through the school system as part of the Outdoor Living class in the Middle School. This is the ideal situation, giving the student the opportunity to receive instruction from a professional teacher.

The only real problem we have in Crawford County is with the ORV Safety class. For some reason, those people who take part in this activity are not willing to take the time to help young riders learn to safely operate their equipment. I can't believe that they don't care. Perhaps they do not realize the need for volunteers. Any one who would care to offer their time and expertise, please feel free to contact us at the Grayling Field Office, 348-6371.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The Dept. of Natural Resources oversees safety training in four areas, as mandated by statute. The four areas are: Hunter Safety, Marine Safety, Snowmobile Safety and Off-Road Vehicle (ORV) Safety. In general, a youngster between 12 and 16 must have passed the appropriate safety course prior to taking part in certain aspects of the involved activity.

The original conception of the safety training included the use of volunteers to teach the courses. This is best shown in the Hunter Safety program. Locally, we have some very dedicated and active sportsmen who take the time to help young hunters.

The Sheriff's Dept. plays an important role in the Marine and Snowmobile safety programs, offering several classes each year to local youngsters.

All four programs are offered through the school system as part of the Outdoor Living class in the Middle School. This is the ideal situation, giving the student the opportunity to receive instruction from a professional teacher.

The only real problem we have in Crawford County is with the ORV Safety class. For some reason, those people who take part in this activity are not willing to take the time to help young riders learn to safely operate their equipment. I can't believe that they don't care. T.U. COMPLETES ACCESS — Last fall, members of the George W. Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited completed the second access in the Deward area of the Manistee River. Assistance was also provided by workers of the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District. Funds for materials were provided by the National Trout Unlimited Mellon Fund under project "Restore". This access is the second of a series of projects in the Deward area suggested by Gary Schnicke of the D.N.R. This second access, just west of the Amoco pumping station, off Deward Road, is about one mile north of the first access, which the Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited completed in 1983. Directional signs will be erected at both locations next spring. The two locations offer access to exceptional trout fishing for the "Wormer" or "Fly-Fisher", while preventing serious man-made erosion.

What is alcoholism

dependency?

Chemical dependency occurs when a person becomes physically and/or psychologically reliant on a chemical substance such as alcohol, pills or "street drugs". Because alcohol is a sedative drug, alcoholism is considered a chemical dependency.

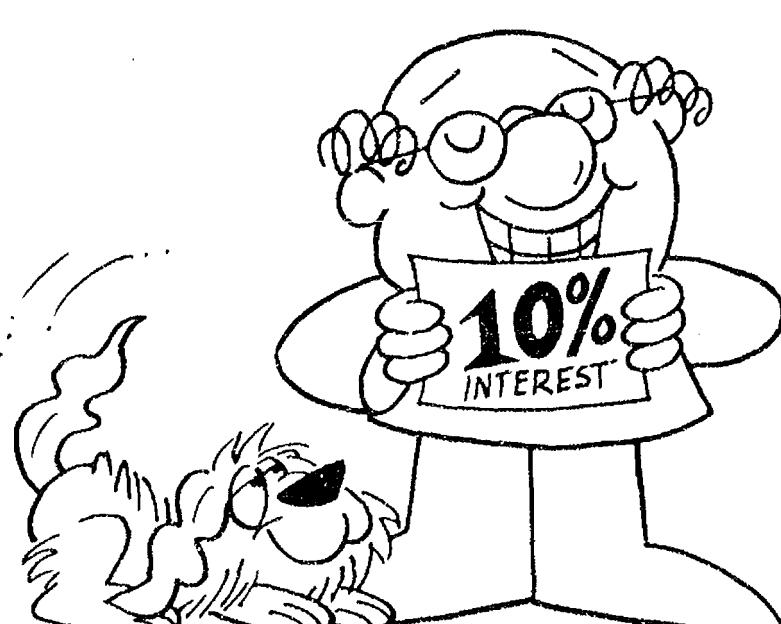

Above all, alcoholism is a disease. A disease that affects men, women and teenagers in ever-increasing numbers and usually involves the use of more than one drug. The use of other drugs or chemicals such as sleeping pills, valium or marijuana, in combination with alcohol is called cross-dependency.

A 28-day residential treatment center for alcoholism and other chemical dependencies is now open at Alpena General Hospital.

Smoking: Why Should I Stop - How Can I Stop?

By Michael Langdon, M.D.
(This is the conclusion of a two-part series.)

The latter question "How can I stop?" is much more difficult to answer. Before attempting to answer this question, I need to clarify the fact that the smoker's resources for stopping depend upon whether or not the smoker is a Christian or a non-Christian. I will first outline the non-Christian's resources for stopping smoking and will then conclude with the Christian's resources.

There are several obstacles to the smoker who tries to quit. Obstacles include social pressure. Sometimes a smoker's friends will not want the person to succeed in stopping smoking. Some smokers have had to resort to changing their circle of friends and activities to be successful in quitting.

Another obstacle is lack of a specific plan whether it be hypnosis, willpower, nicotine gum, etc. It would behoove the individual smoker to check with his or her physician before starting on a cessation program, especially when it comes to controversial therapy such as hypnosis.

Alcohol can also become an obstacle. Smoking and alcohol are often related. While a person is attempting to quit smoking, it often helps to keep alcohol consumption to a minimum or to totally abstain. Feared loss of self control is yet another obstacle.

Many smokers feel they will no longer be able to control their temper or other emotions when they stop smoking. This loss of control is usually only transient. There are many other obstacles to the cessation of smoking including expectation of failure, secret smoking, stressful situations, and weight gain.

The majority of smokers who stop smoking will gain weight. This is often used as an excuse to continue smoking.

To make a rational comparison, a smoker would have to become approximately 125 pounds overweight to have the relative health risk as that of continuing smoking.

Other obstacles include the obvious nicotine dependence, switching to other forms of tobacco (which usually does not help), self pity, or "mourning."

There are many helpful hints for the smoker. It often helps if the smoker who is attempting to quit actively encourages and helps others to stop smoking. Along this same line is the practice of identifying and personally associating with former smokers. The ex-smoker should also learn to avoid "triggers" of stimuli that encourage smoking, whatever those may be. The paraphernalia of smoking should also be disposed of. It often helps to join a group opposed to smoking and read their literature.

Another very important part of stopping smoking is verbalizing your belief to others. This will often strengthen one's courage and willpower. One of the most helpful areas is that of developing a substitute activity incompatible with smoking, for example - aerobic exercise program, jogging, or other physical activities.

The stimulation from physical exercise often will aid the ex-smoker in staying off tobacco, and it will certainly help in keeping down the expected weight gain. Some ex-smokers also find it helpful to place signs in their home and at work areas asking others to refrain from smoking.

I now address the Christian who is endeavoring to stop smoking. The principles above given to the non-Christian smoker also apply in general to the Christian, but the Christian has a much greater resource to enable himself or herself to stop, the resource being the Word of God and the indwelling Holy Spirit.

The Word of God shows us in several passages the important principles that the smoker can use to convict himself or herself regarding smoking. In I Corinthians 10:31, the apostle Paul says "Therefore, eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God." The Christian smoker needs to ask himself if his smoking is glorifying to God.

In Hebrews 12:1, the writer of the book of Hebrews states (after surveying the many biblical heroes of faith in chapter 11): "Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." Here the idea is portrayed that even if a particular activity is not defined as sin in the scripture, there are many things that we Christians do that are "weights". They weigh us down and hinder our testimony for our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

In Hebrews 12:2, the very next verse, the scripture continues "Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith." This should be a real encouragement to the Christian.

In I Corinthians 6:19, the apostle Paul again writing to the Corinthian church states, "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost who is in you, whom ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" In verse 20, it goes on to say "For ye are bought with a price; therefore, glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's." The Christian needs to give his body to the Lord and allow the Lord to control all facets of his or her life.

Grayling Elementary Kindergarten Round-up

Registration for the 1985-86 kindergarten class will be held on March 6 and 7 at the Grayling Elementary School. Children who will be 5 years of age on or before December 1, 1985 are eligible to enroll for kindergarten.

Registration will be done by appointment only from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. on March 6 and 7. Please call the school (348-7641, ext. 46) to schedule your appointment. If you are not able to attend the registration on March 6 or 7 it is extremely important that you contact the school by February 22 to discuss other arrangements.

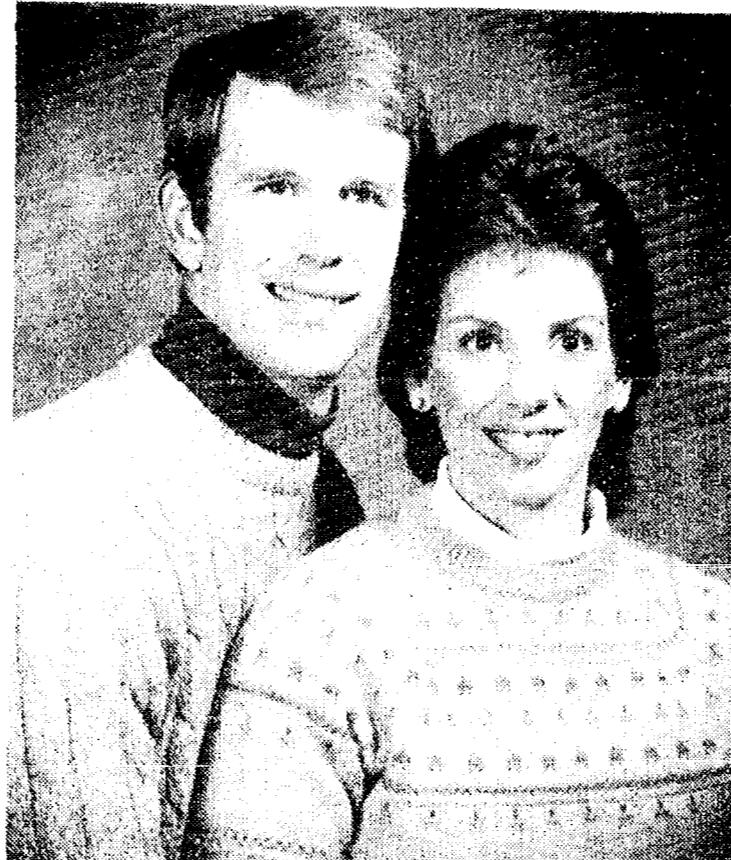

Early registration of kindergarten children is extremely important as State requirements must be met before a child can be permitted to attend school. Children entering a public school in Michigan must meet immunization requirements, have vision and hearing testing, a physical exam, and produce a certificate of birth. Vision and hearing screening will be held on March 18, 19, and 20. Clinics for physical exams will also be scheduled for this spring. All children registered for kindergarten will be scheduled with appointments for these clinics. Immunization clinics are held monthly at the Health Dept.

I urge you to enroll early and attend the preschool clinics to prepare your child for school. Children not meeting State requirements will not be permitted to enter school.

Please bring your child's immunization records and birth certificate for registration. If you do not have these documents, but intend to enter your child in school in September, please call the school at once.

To Sponsor Lenten Series

For the third consecutive year the AuSable Ministerial Association will sponsor its Lenten series entitled "A Journey of Faith." It is a program of fellowship, prayer, and spiritual sharing.

The program will utilize the noon hours of the first six Thursdays of Lent, beginning on Thursday, February 21st. All sessions will be held at the St. Mary's Family Center.

You are invited to bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be provided. At each session a lay person from one of the local churches will give a short talk about his or her faith journey and will conclude with prayer. Each program will be done by 1 p.m.

St. Francis Episcopal Church will be the host church for February 21st. You are most cordially invited to attend this enriching Lenten series.

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper

It was the tradition, during the season of Lent in Merry Old England, to deny oneself of any rich or sweet foods (a very great sacrifice for some, even today.) In order to rid the manor house of all such delicacies, a great feast was prepared on Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday the official first day of Lent. Rich cakes were made, adding all the sugar and other seasonings which could be found in the house which were of a rich nature. The cakes could be likened to our pancakes of today.

In keeping with this tradition, the Parish of St. Francis' Episcopal Church wishes to invite you to participate in our own celebration of Shrove Tuesday. It has become a tradition for our church to have a Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper, and this year's feast will be held on Tuesday, February 19th from 5:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Donations will be $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for children under 12 and children under 6 eat free.

The church is located on M-72 West and coming from its doors on that evening will be the tantalizing smells of plain and blueberry pancakes, potato pancakes with or without sour cream, smoked sausage and applesauce. You may have all the pancakes you can eat, so come and celebrate with us!!!

Dental Decay Prevention

Stressed by Area Dentists

The Vacationland District Dental Society brings you this article in observance of National Children's Dental Health Month. It is second in a series of four on "The Various Aspects of Dentistry".

Almost as soon as people learned that they could get relief from an aching tooth by having it pulled, they started trying to replace the missing tooth. As long ago as 200 B.C., the Etruscans fashioned bridgework out of gold. Like modern bridges, these devices fastened to the natural teeth and supported artificial teeth.

Teeth that are out of position may not "mesh" or fit correctly with teeth in the other jaw. Chewing and other movements of the mouth may put added stresses on these teeth, pushing them even farther out of line and breaking down the tissues that hold them in place. Teeth that are tipped or out of position are also hard to clean, which increases the risk of tooth decay and periodontal (gum) disease.

To replace one or more missing teeth, fixed bridges are most often used. They are held in place by crowning (capping) the natural teeth on either side of the space and an artificial tooth is fused between the crowns to replace the lost tooth. In other cases the artificial tooth is bonded to the neighboring teeth.

The success of a bridge depends greatly on the continued health of the teeth supporting it, so people who must wear bridges should be particularly careful to brush and floss thoroughly every day.

Mary Allen, R.N., Emergency Room Nursing Coordinator at Mercy Hospital, said the program is primarily for Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs), Firemen and individuals who could come in contact with military explosives. With Camp Grayling so close to us, this is a real concern for us, Mrs. Allen said.

She added, "Mercy Hospital is committed to greater involvement in programs such as this one intended to enhance the knowledge and proficiency of the EMTs and other emergency personnel working in our service area."

Groups or individuals interested in the program should register prior to the meeting with the public relations office at Mercy Hospital, 348-5461 ext. 368, or with Mrs. Allen at extension 335.

Skiers Warm Up For Regional Meet

Viking skiers won 30 races last week, lost 15, and tied 2 against some of the best competition in the state.

On Monday at Boyne Highlands, Grayling girl skiers finished 3rd in a nine-team meet behind Cadillac and Harbor Springs. The Grayling boys placed 4th behind Petoskey, Harbor, and Cadillac.

On Friday at Schuss Mt., both the girls and boys placed 2nd. The Vikings girls finished behind Charlevoix and the boys finished behind Petoskey in a four-team meet.

Top skiers for the week were Heidi Derenzy and Pete Huss.

Derenzy took 1st and 2nd in giant slalom and 2nd and 17th in slalom. Carol Longworth had a good week placing 8th, 11th, 12th, and 14th. Kris Laudenberger placed 1st, 6th, 23rd, and 29th. Cari Longworth took 9th, 11th, 18th, and 24th. Julie Huss took 12th, 23rd, 48th, and 55th. Heather Derenzy took 15th and 55th in slalom and Pam Lange took 15th and 28th in giant slalom.

Pete Huss led the boys with a 4th and 7th at Boyne Highlands and 5th and 6th at Schuss.

Alan Weiss took 9th and 24th then 7th and 9th. Mark Gust took 17th and 18th and 10th and 11th. Jason Welser took 16th and 23rd and 12th and 16th. Kevin Reynolds took 18th and 24th and 15th and 14th. Glen Carlson took 61st and 27th and 20th and 17th.

Heading into the conference and regional meets, head coach Mike Wieland said Petoskey will be tough to beat but the Viking boys have a shot at everyone else in the league. In the regionals, Traverse City and Petoskey are way ahead of everyone else, he said, and the only way they'll lose is to fall.

Wieland said the Vikings girls have a shot at the league title with Charlevoix and Harbor the two teams to beat. With Traverse City in the regionals, Wieland said the girls will have to ski at their best to make a repeat trip to the state finals.

Volleyballers Save Games

With Defensive Hustle

Grayling deflated two tough teams in match play last week to boost their record to 11-4.

On Monday they beat Inland Lakes 15-8, 15-8, and 15-9 at home. Earlier in the year, Grayling had split games with Inland Lakes at a tournament.

Piper Ostrowski recorded 32 spikes and Dawn Phelps had 29. Denton added 18 and Lori Pfaff had 7. Denton hit 25 of 28 serves and Ostrowski scored five points in a row with tough serves at a crucial spot in the fourth game.

Bedard had the most sets with 38. Krayes had 30, and Phelps had 20 - most of her sets came off misplaced passes and she set up Ostrowski and Denton.

Against Inland Lakes, Grayling didn't fare as well at a St. Ignace tournament Saturday. Grayling lost 13-15, 13-15 to Sault Ste. Marie, lost 10-15, 12-15 to Petoskey, and split 15-7 and 9-15 with Cedarville. Phelps had 25 blocks, Bedard served 20 for 20 for 10 points, and Ostrowski led the defense.

The Grayling J.V. squad also beat Inland Lakes, 15-13, 15-1, and 15-0 and Charlevoix 15-9, 15-11, and 15-8.

Lynda Huether served 15 straight points for Grayling.

saves as the Vikings were down by at least six points in every game.

The games featured long rallies but Grayling had a total of 126 spikes, head coach Becky Brown pointed out, so the ball just wasn't being bumped over.

On Wednesday, Grayling brought home a 15-13, 15-10, 7-15, and 16-14 win from Charlevoix.

Against Grayling, incredible scoop saves from Shannon Krays, Shelly Denton, and Beth Bedard enabled Grayling to come from 8 points down in the fourth game to clinch the match. Charlevoix had rolled to a 12-4 lead.

Grayling battled back the entire night with defensive

Rochelle Campeau served for 18 points, Denise Pittman had 11 points on her serve, and Phelps had 11.

Brown said Ostrowski, Denton, and Phelps each crushed a spike that fired up the team during the three games.

Grayling didn't fare as well at a St. Ignace tournament Saturday. Grayling lost 13-15, 13-15 to Sault Ste. Marie, lost 10-15, 12-15 to Petoskey, and split 15-7 and 9-15 with Cedarville. Phelps had 25 blocks, Bedard served 20 for 20 for 10 points, and Ostrowski led the defense.

The Grayling J.V. squad also beat Inland Lakes, 15-13, 15-1, and 15-0 and Charlevoix 15-9, 15-11, and 15-8.

Lynda Huether served 15 straight points for Grayling.

Harris-Lovell Vows Spoken

Karen Lea Harris became the bride of Richard Lee Lovell on Saturday, December 1, 1984 at the First Baptist Church in Frederic, Michigan. The two were united as one in Christ in a double ring, candlelight ceremony with approximately 100 guests in attendance.

The bride was attired in a cathedral-length gown of white satin with an embossed floral design and an overlay of chantilly lace. The headpiece was made up of small white roses, carnations, and an assortment of various other small flowers, some being light pink and light blue to accent the color scheme of the wedding.

The church was decorated with white pew bows with greenery and pine tied in. The candelabras were decorated with a variety of beautiful flowers, which included white gladiolas, pink carnations, and white mums. Carousal Flowers of Clare provided the flowers, corsages, and boutonnieres for the wedding.

As she approached the altar, the bride presented the groom's mother with a white rose. The bride's mother was also presented with a white rose by her daughter as the couple left the altar to meet their guests.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother, George and Stella Harris, of Lake George.

Judy Englund played some of the couple's favorite hymns as the guests were seated, and played the processional and recessional, as well. Mrs. Englund also provided the piano accompaniment for the songs chosen for the wedding. The songs were beautifully sung by Vicki Boerema. "Together" and "It's a Beautiful Thing" were chosen by the couple because of the testimony of what a Christian marriage should be and reflects God's presence in their lives, now and always.

The groom was attired in a tuxedo with a white jacket and silk ascot tie, and contrasting black pants.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of soria roses and white carnations, arranged with blue silk accents and complimented with baby's breath and pine, and a white family Bible to the altar.

The groom was attired in a tuxedo with a white jacket and silk ascot tie, and contrasting black pants.

The maid of honor, Nanette Freed of Riverdale, and the bridesmaid, Sally Owens (cousin of the bride) of Flint wore matching floor length gowns of light pink with a small floral design covering the gowns. They carried silk arm bouquets of pink carnations with blue and white accents. Baby's breath and pine complimented their bouquets. The flower girl, Sarah Gunn (cousin of the bride) of Bridgeman, wore a floor length gown matching the design of the bridesmaid and maid of honor, made of the same material, but with a dark pink bodice. She carried a small wicker flower basket and dropped white and pink rose petals.

The best man, Michael Corlew of Roscommon, and the groomsman, Arnold Gilman (nephew of the groom) of Grayling, wore matching tuxedos of light blue. Their shirts had pink ruffles to accent the bride's attendants' gowns. The ring-bearer, George Harris, III (nephew of the bride) of Lake George, wore a tuxedo with a white jacket and contrasting black pants. The ring-bearer's pillow was covered with white satin on which small token rings were attached by white ribbons. Small pink and blue ribbons accented the pillow.

The mother of the bride, Stella Harris of Lake George, and the mother of the groom, Helen Lovell of Grayling, wore mint green dresses. The father of the bride, George Harris, Sr. of Lake George, and the father of the groom, Robert Lovells of Grayling, wore matching

Special Program For Senior Citizens at Mercy Feb. 19

New Changes in Medicare Payments to Hospitals will be the topic of a special program for senior citizens on Tuesday, February 19th. The program sponsored by Mercy Hospital, will be held at the Grayling Housing Commission facility at 308 Lawndale. The program will begin at 5:00 p.m., following the regular Commission on Aging evening meal.

Ms. Patricia Hanson, community services coordinator for Mercy Hospital stated that the program should be of special interest to senior citizens. "We will explain how Medicare reimburses hospitals and services available to assist individuals when they go home. We also want to acquaint individuals with new forms used at admission and discharge. There is a lot of confusion over the way Medicare is reimbursing hospitals, admission and discharges from the hospital, and out-patient services. We need to reassure everyone that they will continue to receive the highest quality care that Mercy Hospital has to offer, and we are here to help with questions."

Other community groups interested in having Mercy Hospital present this program should contact the community services office at (517) 348-5461, ext. 120.

When one considers the sheer number of logs being handled by the respective boom companies, it is no wonder that marks which closely resembled others could not be tolerated. Consider that in one year the Tittabawasee Boom Company sorted, rafted and delivered more than 600 million board feet of logs. The question is how many actual logs does that amount to? The rough rule was "five logs to the thousand," or approximately 200 board feet to the log. Your arithmetic is as good as mine, but that equates out to three million logs to be identified by log marks at one boom.

There were many such booms doing equal or lesser volume. It is little wonder that the air turned blue with profanity on the boom sticks when an unmarked log got into the sorting gap. That unmarked log threw a monkey wrench into the whole operation. The log was thoroughly examined for end marks as well as bark marks. If none were found, the log was put with others of its kind. Up river the unmarked log was a gift to anyone who found it and there were those who made a business of hunting them. On the booming grounds, such logs were gathered and sold by the boom company to pay for their transportation and care.

Bill Joseph, privileged member, and a former Kiwanis president, and Bob Bovee, master of ceremonies and present club secretary, reminisced on the many activities in which the Grayling club had engaged over the past 50 years.

Chamber Chatter

By: The Staff

The organized celebration of Winter Carnival contest is over, but the outdoor activities will continue as long as winter lasts and we are so grateful for the opportunity to live in the North Country to have outdoor fun all of the time. We are very appreciative of all the assistance given by the people to make the Winter Carnival such a success. A big Thank You to all.

A short time ago, we wondered whether we would ever recover our float to the condition worthy of representing Grayling. We even mentioned the fact that the float was in such disrepair that it was in no condition for trips even to Tip-Off Town at Houghton Lake.

Well, now, when you give an assignment to a guy named Curt Jansen of Jansen's Sales & Service, with the responsibility of getting the float in shape for parades, etc. You can sit back and watch things happen. Curt got busy. He enlisted some expertise from his father, Don Jansen, and also the skilled hands of Chei Fijolek. They each donated their time, 12 hours each, to the skilled carpenter work necessary to reconstruct the frame and aprons. Bill Rutter of Rutter's Window & Door Co., donated the lumber material for the job. Before we got that far, last summer we needed a new chassis. It seems that the old hay wagon chassis had gone to wagon heaven. Col. Ivan Gwilt and his staff came to the rescue - in no time at all they had a new angle iron frame with tandem wheels, tongue and hitch ready to go. We marveled at the engineering and construction. It is so well balanced that you can drop the tongue and the float will not drop an inch in any direction. Col. Gwilt's boys did a fine job.

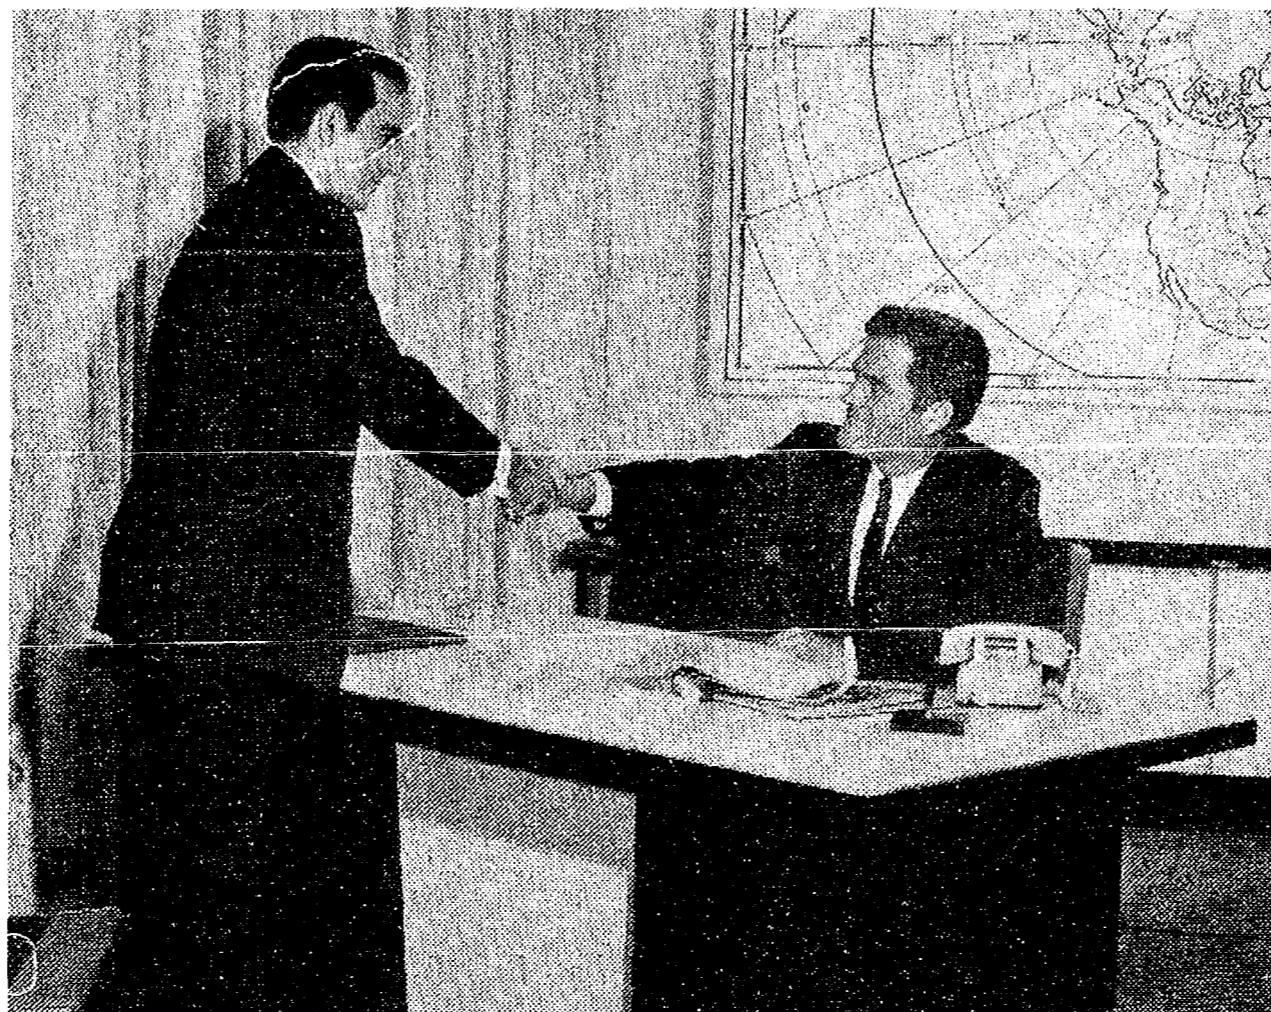

Our next obstacle was to secure the float to the new chassis. Coming on the scene is Roy "Chum" Lovely of the Mich. Con Gas Co., who borrowed an electric welder from Ron Fraser and together with Freddie Hall bolted and welded the float to the chassis which now is as strong as the "Rock." The Weyerhaeuser Co. came into the picture too with their donation of 6 - 4 x 8 sheets of structurwood. Jack Millikin, Inc. stored the float at their garage for the past 2 years for which we are very grateful. They are always willing to share. Because of the snow conditions this winter, it was advisable to move the float to M-72 West Plaza for storage. Our thanks to Jack Hull for making the space available.

So that's how floats are made ready for a parade.

At long last the Chamber float has been reworked and has new lighter aprons which can be folded by one person. This, combined with the new chassis, puts the float in fine shape for travel. Volunteers are needed for both supplying trucks to pull the unit and for drivers. The Chamber office is only a phone call away, 348-2921 for civic minded people to volunteer their time and/or vehicles.

An appointment is a privilege and an obligation.

It means that at a given hour all else will be put aside because of the importance of the matter which prompted the appointment.

It means that something of concern to you is of equal concern to someone else.

It means that facts are to be explained, problems studied, goals agreed on, progress made.

And—most of all—an appointment means that the issue involved is urgent and must be dealt with NOW!

The most important appointment in every week is the one at worship. Your appointment with God!

Drying Herbs

Depending on the weather, herbs usually take about two weeks to hang dry.

To dry herbs in a hurry, spread the leaves on a cheese-cloth-covered rack in an oven set at its lowest temperature. Leave the oven door open and stir leaves occasionally until they are crisp. They will be ready in a few minutes.
